A team competition where it comes to coping with a variety of racing disciplines as quickly as possible. Divided into two or more teams you are going to implement one duel task at a time. The various duels place different demands on the participants. Taking advantage of the entire team's expertise in every duel increases the chance to beat the other teams. Depending on how many teams there are there will be time for five to seven different activities. The team who has won the largest number of duels will be rewarded with gold medals.
